DEVELOPMENTAL PROFILE

1. Key workplace insights that enabled me to apply my skills, knowledge, and values.

   My fourth month here in Huawei was very insightful and memorable because I was part of more responsibility. I experienced shadowing a partner enablement where we went to the PAG-ASA office to do the enablement. Supporting WSI also in the meetings, requirements, marketing funds, pipelines and partner onboarding was very fulfilling because as a PBD intern, I'm making a real difference here in Huawei. Also, proving my insights to my supervisor is something I really value because he trusts me that my opinions in the cloud market will help Huawei make informed decisions. Overall, my first 100 hours in my required internship is full of learning and hands-on experiences making meaningful contributions in the workplace.

2. Areas of improvement

   While this internship has helped me develop professionally, it has also highlighted areas where I can continue to grow. I aim to become more confident in presenting ideas and participating in discussions with industry professionals, especially when sharing recommendations and insights. I also want to further enhance my knowledge of cloud technologies, partner ecosystems, and market analysis to provide more strategic and impactful contributions. Additionally, I aspire to improve my ability to manage multiple responsibilities simultaneously while maintaining efficiency and attention to detail.
